IT IS DRAFTED

Mayor Lang Prepares the Meat and Milk Inspector Ordinance.

WILL COME UP MONDAY

There May Be Difficulty in Finding a Man for the Place—The Salary Will Be About $600.

SOMETHING OF THE SALIENT POINTS

Mayor Lang this morning completed the new ordinance agreed on by the board of health and council committee relative to a live stock, meat and milk inspector for Paducah, the agitation of which has caused so much comment and controversy for the past several weeks, and it will be submitted to the committees for suggestions or changes and then to the council Monday night for passage.

The salary will be fixed at about $600 year, and the penalties at amounts that will have the desired effect in enforcing the purposes of the law, but those amounts are to be fixed by the council when the ordinance is presented for passage, and may be changed from the amounts now contemplated.

The eligibility of the new official, who will be elected for one year in June, will be the same as other city officers, who must have been a resident for two years, but in addition he must before he can be elected and qualify present a certificate of competency for discharging the duties imposed, from three reputable physicians of Paducah.

The two year part will prevent a man from out of the city being elected. It is probable that some physician will be elected to the place.

The ordinance requires an inspection of all cattle before it is slaughtered, and of all dressed meats, poultry, fish, game and other meats. Cattle that has been inspected before slaughtered does not have to be again inspected after being placed on the market. The dressed meat clause is to enable meats from adjacent counties which cannot be inspected before slaughtered, to be sold on the market here, also the Chicago beef.

"If any impure meat is sold here," said Mayor Lang this morning, "it is probable that it is shipped here."

All cattle in the city or within one mile is to be inspected free of charge to the owner, but all beyond one mile of the corporate limits is to be paid for by the owner, the fees thus derived to belong to the inspector, and which will constitute the "perquisites" of the office.

The inspections shall be made as often as necessary, and no meat shall be slaughtered in the county that has not been inspected and approved.

In regard to the milk inspection, the duty of the inspector shall be to inspect all cows at the dairies once every two weeks, and whenever an addition is made by the dairyman, it shall be reported to the inspector and no milk from such additions shall be sold until the inspector has approved it. He shall also with the health officer inspect all premises, vessels, and whenever he desires has the power to stop wagons on the street and inspect the milk and if deemed impure, to order its sale stopped.

Under the new ordinance no veal under four weeks old may be slaughtered. The ordinance is believed to cover every point involved and will probably meet the approval of the board of health.

Severe penalties will be stipulated that will prevent or at least render unprofitable any violation of the ordinance.

THE VISITORS HAVE GONE

Committees Meet Today at St. Louis—Decision Will Be Made in Ten Days.

SECRETARY DAINS FEELS ENCOURAGED

Messrs. Charles and Conradt, of Kokomo, Ind., who were here yesterday as guests of the Commercial club, left last night for St. Louis, where they today meet the committee that has been visiting towns on the lower Mississippi.

The gentlemen were shown the sites in Paducah and vicinity by Secretary Dains, of the Commercial club, but did not express an opinion about the relative advantages offered by the various cities they have visited.

The place they choose, however, must be one where there is cheap material and fuel. They desire to locate near pig iron furnaces and where coal is plentiful, and where they can get good rates by rail and river.

Secretary Dains feels confident that Paducah compares favorably with any of the cities visited. There is a probability of several iron furnaces, including the one in Paducah, being in operation within a comparatively short time, and Paducah is not to be excelled by any city in her natural advantages and cheap freight rates.

ELKS HOME.

THE MEMBERS OF PADUCAH LODGE NOW CONSIDERING

One-It is Uncertain Just What Action Will Be Taken—Committee Appointed.

Paducah lodge No. 217, B. P. O. E., is now considering the matter of securing a home. The recent carnival was partly to raise funds for the Elks' home project, and the result was so gratifying that the lodge has begun to consider the home location, and last night a committee was appointed to investigate the best means of investing the money, whether in a home or placing it at interest until the entire amount necessary is secured.

The lodge now has over $7,000 in cash, and could no doubt easily raise a thousand or two more. Several buildings have already been offered. One is the Leach building, on North Fourth, now occupied by the Elks and other secret orders another is the Buckner property at Eighth and Jefferson, on North Seventh, now owned by Dr. J. G. Brooks.

It is believed that the majority of members will favor taking no action until all the money needed is secured. In this event the money already on hand will be safely invested.

—There will be service tonight at Broadway Methodist church preparatory to the sacrament on Sunday.

THERE IS SOME DISSATISFACTION

Seven of the Discharged Motormen Back at Work--The Others are Mad.

More trouble is possible in street car circles. This morning seven of the motormen who were discharged last Sunday morning were put back to work and it seems this created dissatisfaction. The motormen were under the impression that all the fifteen regular men laid off Sunday were to be put back this morning. About eight of those discharged were "extra men."

One of the motormen said to a reporter: "The verbal agreement we had with the street car company was all right, and under it fifteen or eighteen of the old men were to be put back today. Under the written agreement, however, they have the best of us, it seems, and do not have to put back any of the old men 'except as needed,' which might never be."

"You see they have more 'scabs' on the cars today than regular men. The men who have been on since we got locked out Sunday are not union men. They may get to be, but they are not yet, and we think that until they are we ought to be given the preference, since the company has recognized the union."

The street car company, however, simply sustains its action by the agreement, which says:

"First—We agree to reinstate as many as possible of the locked out motormen immediately, and to place the remainder under the eligible list."

"Fourth—All extra men to be considered as union men and to come under the jurisdiction of the same."

It is seen that under the agreement, signed by both sides, and which was said to be satisfactory to all concerned, the so-called "scabs" are considered

The grocer refused to accept the order, and she was forced to appeal to the mayor. She has three small children, and the mayor rendered the family temporary aid.
